

Print this out and paste to cardboard.

Then use a hole-puncher to make 2 holes in each gray value.

I made 3 per sheet because they can get dirty quickly sitting in a paintbox.

- Peek through the hole to see the value on the model. The color you mix should match that value number.
- If you have difficulty discerning fleshtones (especially in dark areas which can appear 'black'), peeking through the matching hole can help you see the color.
